Valuation

Order for general valuation.

11. (1) The Minister may by Regulations order that a general valuation be made of all property subject to valuation and shall specify the year in which the valuation list for that general valuation takes effect.

(2) The Regulations shall specify the reference date as the date as at which the value of property in a general valuation is established and may make provision for any other matters in relation to the general valuation.

Application of valuation list from general valuation to subsequent years.

12. The valuation list in the year of a general valuation applies to the property in that year and in each year thereafter until the year in which the valuation list for the next general valuation takes effect except to the extent that it may be amended from time to time under this Act.

13. (1) The valuation officer shall prepare a valuation of a property or a part thereof and assign a valuation class to each valuation subject to subsection (2).

Assigning valuation classes to property by Regulations.

(2) The valuation classes of the property shall be -

- (a) Class 1 – Residential use property;
- (b) Class 2 – Commercial use property;
- (c) Class 3 – Accommodation use property;
- (d) Class 4 – Property used in certified farming operation;
- (e) Class 5 – Institutional use property .

(3) The Minister may by regulation reclassify each valuation class or amend or further divide any valuation class as he considers appropriate.

(4) When the valuation officer is uncertain about the class to be assigned to a property or any part thereof, the valuation officer shall assign a class to the property or a part thereof that most closely approximates the principal use of the property or any part thereof of the property.

(5) If the valuation officer assigns more than one valuation class to a property he shall provide a breakdown of the valuation, showing each valuation class and the portion of the valuation attributable to each class.

14. (1) Subject to sections 15 and 16, the valuation standard for property is its market value on the reference date.

Valuation standard for property.

(2) The market value of property may be determined by one or more of the following valuation methods–

- (a) a comparison of the estimated sale price of the property with recent sales at market value of the property or of comparable property;
- (b) in relation to improvements, the depreciated replacement cost of the improvements;
- (c) calculating the capital value of the market income or income possibilities of the property.

15. When a building or part of a building is used solely as a dwelling unit and is a residential use property under section 10 and Residential use value.

- (a) the land on which it is located is lawfully useable under applicable planning legislation or other legislation for a higher use; or

- (b) when there is no applicable planning legislation or other legislation prescribing or permitting the use, the land can reasonably be expected to be used for a higher use, the valuation standard for a building or part of a building and the land appurtenant to the building or part of the building land and the improvements on or in the appurtenant land shall be their residential use value on the reference date.

Value of property used in certified farming operations.

16. (1) When–

- (a) a valuation officer assigns to a parcel of land and any improvements on it class 4 status (property used for certified farming operations); and
- (b) some other higher use is prescribed or permitted for the parcel of land under applicable physical planning legislation or other legislation or there is no applicable physical planning legislation or other legislation prescribing or permitting the use and the parcel of land can reasonably be expected to be used for a higher use, the valuation standard shall be the value of property used for certified farming operations on the reference date for the parcel of land or that part of the parcel of land and any improvements on it, if any, that are used in the certified farming operations.

(2) The Director of Agriculture may certify that a parcel of land or part of a parcel of land and any improvements on it that are used in farming operations if he is satisfied that the owner or tenant of the land is engaged in bona fide commercial farming operations having regard to relevant considerations such as–

- (a) the area of land used for farming operations;
- (b) the number of years the owner or tenant has engaged in farming operations;
- (c) the size of agricultural crops produced or quantity of livestock raised in the farming operations;
- (d) the use of irrigation, pesticides, fertilizer, mulching, pruning, animal feed, veterinary services, animal housing, marketing services and pasture production in the farming operations;

- (g) application for duty free concessions with respect to the farming operations under any agricultural incentive policy of the Government.

(3) Subject to subsection (4), a certificate given before the thirty first day of December of a year is valid until–

- (a) the Director of Agriculture cancels the certificate;
- (b) the thirty first day of December five years after the year in which the certificate was issued; or
- (c) the parcel of property and any improvements on it cease to be used for farming operations;

whichever occurs first.

(4) The Director of Agriculture may cancel a certificate after giving written notice of his intention to do so to the owner or tenant and giving the owner or tenant a reasonable opportunity to be heard.

17. In preparing a valuation, the valuation officer shall apply the valuation standards set out in this Act in a fair and equitable manner.

Valuation to be fair and equitable.

18. The valuation officer shall value–

- (a) each parcel of land separately;
- (b) the land exclusive of improvements; and
- (c) the improvements apart from the land to which they relate.

Valuation of land and improvements separately.

19. Except when otherwise provided in this Act or the Regulations, the valuation officer shall value land that is an estate in fee simple in the property.

Property interest to be valued.

20. (1) Notwithstanding sections 6(1)(a) and (b), property owned by the Government or by a statutory body, other than a prescribed statutory body, and occupied by a tenant or licensee shall be valued as though the tenant or licensee were the owner in fee simple if rent or any other valuable consideration is paid in respect of the occupation of the property.

Valuation of property of Government or statutory body occupied by tenants or licensees.

(2) Notwithstanding the terms of any tenancy agreement or licence agreement, the tenant or licensee shall pay the taxes to the Comptroller and such payment is deemed to discharge any obligation under the tenancy agreement or licence agreement with respect to taxes or amounts payable in lieu of taxes.

21. Notwithstanding sections 6(1)(a) and (b), when the Government or a statutory body, other than a prescribed statutory body, has an interest in property owned by a person other than the Government Valuation of property when Government has any other interest.

or a statutory body, the property shall be valued as though a person other than the Government held the interest.

Right to enter on and inspect property.

22. (1) For the purpose of preparing a valuation of the property or determining if the property is to be valued, a valuation officer may, at any reasonable time with the consent of the owner or occupier or at any reasonable time after giving not less than 24 hours notice without the consent of the owner or occupier of the property—

- (a) enter on and inspect the property;
- (b) request—
  - (i) any information that is known to the owner or occupier, or
  - (ii) any documents in the possession or control of the owner or occupier to be produced, relevant to preparing the valuation or determining if the property is to be valued; and
- (c) make copies of documents necessary to the inspection.

(2) For the purpose of making copies, the valuation officer may take the documents away after giving a written receipt for them and shall return the documents without delay.

(3) When carrying out duties under subsection (1), a valuation officer shall produce identification on request and inform the owner or occupier of any property of the purpose of the entry and inspection.

Duty to furnish information and documents.

23. (1) A person, including a statutory body, not later than the day specified in a written notice by a valuation officer—

- (a) shall furnish any information or documents or copies of documents in the person's possession or control that are necessary for the valuation officer to prepare a valuation or determine if property is to be valued; and
- (b) when the request so specifies, shall furnish the information in the form of a signed statement or under oath swearing that the information provided by the person is complete, true and accurate or that the documents or copies of the documents are all the documents in his possession or control.

(2) The day specified in a written notice of a valuation officer shall not be less than seven days after the notice is given to the person.

(3) A notice may provide that information and documents or copies of documents be furnished periodically until further notice, but shall not require that they be furnished less than seven days after the end of each period.

(4) No charge shall be made by the owner or occupier for copying any of the documents.

24. (1) A valuation officer may apply to the High Court for an order under subsection (2) if any person under section 22 or 23–

Court authorized inspection and enforcement.

- (a) refuses to allow or interferes with an entry or inspection by a valuation officer; or
- (b) fails or refuses to produce any document or copy of document in the person's possession or control requested by a valuation officer to assist the valuation officer in preparing a valuation or determining if property is to be valued.

(2) The High Court may make an order for any one or more of the following–

- (a) restraining a person from preventing or interfering with a valuation officer's entry or inspection; or
- (b) requiring a person to produce any document or copy of document requested by a valuation officer to assist the valuation officer in preparing a valuation or determining if property is to be valued.

25. A valuation officer may make inquiries at–

Payment of Taxes

59. (1) Subject to subsection (2), (3) or (4), the tax in a financial year is payable not later than the thirtieth day of June annually.

When tax is payable.

(2) When a taxpayer has made an agreement to pay taxes by instalments pursuant to Regulations under section 61, the date of payment of the taxes is determined by the agreement.

(3) When the collection of taxes is deferred by Regulations or agreement under section 66, the taxes are payable in accordance with the Regulations or the agreement, as the case may be.

(4) When, pursuant to the exercise of a power conferred under another Act, taxes are payable at another date or dates, the taxes are payable in accordance with the exercise of that power.

60. The Minister may by Regulations provide incentives for payment of taxes by the date or dates set out in the Regulations.

Incentives.

Installment payments.

61. (1) The Minister may by Regulations permit taxes to be paid by installments, at the option of the taxpayer.

(2) A person who wishes to pay taxes by installments shall make an agreement with the Government as represented by the Comptroller authorizing that method of payment.

(3) When an agreement under subsection (2) is made, the tax notice, or a separate notice enclosed with the tax notice, shall state—

- (a) the amount and due dates of the instalments to be paid in the remainder of the year; and
- (b) what happens if an instalment is not paid.

(4) The agreement may provide for payment by a series of post-dated cheques or any other means.

Receipt for payment of taxes.

62. When taxes are paid to the Comptroller, a receipt shall be furnished.

Application of tax payment.

63. (1) A tax payment on a property shall be applied in the following order—

- (a) to interest owing;
- (b) to penalties owing;
- (c) to tax arrears;
- (d) to taxes payable.

(2) If a person does not indicate to which taxable property a tax payment is to be applied, the Comptroller shall decide to which taxable property of the taxpayer the payment is to be applied.

Interest and penalty for non-payment.

64. (1) If the tax or any part thereof is unpaid by the due date, such unpaid tax or any part thereof shall accumulate penalties and interest as provided under Tax Administration and Procedures Act, 2003.

(2) Any interest or penalty imposed under subsection (1) is part of the tax in respect of which they are imposed.

Remission of taxes.

65. (1) When the Minister is satisfied that

- (a) it is in the public interest to do so; or
- (b) hardship or injustice has resulted or is likely to result, the Minister may remit all or part of the tax on property.

(2) The remission may be—

- (a) by Regulations applicable to a class or classes of taxpayers or potential taxpayers in relation to taxable property; or

(b) by certificate in a specific case.

(3) The remission of the tax may be conditional or unconditional and may be granted–

- (a) before the liability arises;
- (b) before, after or during the course of, any proceeding for the recovery of the tax; or
- (c) before or after the payment has been made or enforced by process.

(4) When a condition of a remission is not performed, the authorisation of the remission has no effect, and all proceedings may be taken as if it had not been made.

(5) Money that has been paid and is subsequently remitted under this section shall be refunded from the Consolidated Fund.

66. (1) If the Minister considers it equitable to do so, he may defer the collection of a tax–

Deferral of tax.

- (a) by Regulations generally or with respect to a class of taxpayers or potential taxpayers in relation to taxable property; or
- (b) by agreement between the Government as represented by the Comptroller of Inland Revenue and the taxpayer with respect to a particular taxable property.

(2) A Regulations or agreement may impose such conditions including the accrual of interest or penalties or both as seem appropriate to the Minister.

(3) No collection of tax shall be deferred for more than 3 years following the year in which it is due and payable.

67. (1) If an error or omission in a valuation list or tax list–

Error or omission based on false information.

- (a) is the result of a taxpayer knowingly providing false or misleading information to the valuation officer; and
- (b) has resulted in no tax being imposed or in less tax being imposed than would have been imposed if the taxpayer had provided the correct information to the valuation officer, the Comptroller may, for each year or part of a year in which the valuation, tax or exemption from tax was based on the false information, cause the valuation to be amended to reflect the correction, amend the

70. When a separately owned immovable improvement is located on a parcel of property, the taxes that are imposed against the separately owned immovable improvement are recoverable against the entire parcel of property.

Property with separately owned moveable improvement.

71. When a separately owned moveable improvement is located on a parcel of property, the taxes that are imposed against the separately owned moveable improvement are recoverable—

- (a) against the separately owned moveable improvement if it is shown on the valuation list in the name of the person in lawful possession or control of it as a separately owned moveable improvement; and
- (b) against the entire parcel of property, in any other case.

Lien on insurance proceeds.

72. Taxes that have been imposed in respect of improvements are a first charge on any money payable under an insurance policy for accidental loss or damage to those improvements by fire or any other cause.

PART VIII COMPLAINTS, REVIEWS AND APPEALS

Division 1

General Provisions

Obligation to pay taxes.

73. Making a complaint under Division 2 or appealing a decision of the Board to the High Court does not relieve any person from the obligation to pay any taxes owing on any property when they are payable or any interest or penalties imposed for late payment of taxes.

74. A person who becomes entitled to be named on the valuation list in relation to a property or is a taxpayer in respect of a property when a complaint about the property is being dealt with under this Part may become a party to any proceedings started by a person previously named on the valuation list.

Right to continue proceedings.

75. The Comptroller, the Chief Valuation Officer or a valuation officer, with the consent of the Chief Valuation Officer, shall make any changes to the valuation list or tax list, or both, that are necessary to reflect the resolution of a complaint, a decision of the Board, or a decision of the High Court.

Required changes to valuation list.

76. (1) If there has been substantial compliance with this Part, a valuation officer's report or a decision of the Board is not invalid because of a defect in form, a technical irregularity or informality.

Technical irregularities.

(2) A valuation officer may correct any error or omission in his report.

(3) The Board may correct any error or omission in its decision.

  - (b) the report for that complaint referred to in section 79;
  - (c) particulars of the decision of the Board and the date it was made;
  - (d) whether an appeal was taken under section 87; and
  - (e) when a decision was rendered on appeal, the disposition of the appeal and particulars of the decision.

79. (1) After registering the complaint, the Secretary of the Board shall give a copy of the complaint to the Chief Valuation Officer, who may refer the complaint to a valuation officer.

Administrative resolution of complaints.

(2) The valuation officer to whom the complaint is referred shall, not later than forty five days after the complaint was filed, review the complaint and, when he considers it advisable, but subject to subsections (7) and (8), endeavour to resolve any matter complained of with the complainant.

(3) When all matters complained of are resolved, the valuation officer–

- (a) may, if necessary to give effect to the resolution, with the consent of the Chief Valuation Officer, amend the valuation list;
- (b) when he amends the list shall, without delay, send an amended valuation notice to the complainant; and
- (c) without delay, report particulars of the resolution in writing to the Secretary of the Board and send a copy to the complainant.

(4) An amended valuation notice that resolves all complaints is not reviewable by the Board.

(5) When some matters complained of are resolved and others are not, the valuation officer–

- (a) shall, without delay, report particulars of the matters resolved and those unresolved in writing to the Secretary of the Board and send a copy to the complainant;
  - (b) may defer the amendment until the Board has made a decision in respect of the complaint or, with the consent of the Chief Valuation Officer, amend the valuation list in respect of the matters resolved; and
  - (c) when he amends the valuation list, shall send an amended valuation notice to the complainant.
- (6) When none of the matters complained of is resolved, the valuation officer shall, without delay, report that fact in writing to the Secretary of the Board and send a copy to the complainant.
- (7) When a complaint does not comply with section 72 or 73(1), the complaint shall be deemed to be unresolved.
- (8) A complaint that is withdrawn by notice signed by the complainant is deemed to have been resolved.
- (9) A valuation officer shall not review any complaint that relates to a matter in respect of which the valuation officer has a pecuniary interest.
- (10) A valuation officer shall not alter any valuation that is fair and equitable, taking into consideration valuations of similar property.
